TECHWAY joins the group NCS SYSTEMS

Key Alliance to offer High-end systems

We are glad to announce the acquisition of TECHWAY by NCS SYSTEMS. This alliance is a key step in our customer-care strategy by offering the state-of-art technologies and top-level services to demanding markets.

About NCS SYSTEMS

Founded in 1989 in Amsterdam by NIJKERK HOLDING and taken over in 2022 by its management with the support of Isatis Capital, NCS SYSTEMS is an expert of IT solutions for the most demanding markets such as Defence, Aerospace, Transportation, Industry, Medical and more.

A constantly evolving company, the group is recognized for its strong value-added offer, and is distinguished by its research office, which responds to the specific needs of its customers in :

- the eco-conception
- the certified solutions (UL, CE, Tempest, MIL-STD, EN50155, ...)
- the embedded monitors
- the development of customer applications (connected and smart solutions for real-time data acquisition, predictive analysis and advanced automation)

NCS SYSTEMS has two production sites in France and Belgium, and now integrate over 5000 industrial PCs per year and approximately 150 equipped cabinets on their sites, combine with obsolescence and project management services.

About TECHWAY

Founded in 2003, TECHWAY aims to develop advanced electronic solutions for signal and video acquisition and processing in real-time applications. TECHWAY has unique skills in the use of complex technologies, such as FPGA or high-speed optical communications, to design innovative solutions.

TECHWAY has become a pioneer company of Embedded Electronics market in Europe and all around the world.

We simplify the use of these technologies by designing "ready-to-use" embedded solutions to reduce their cost to system integrators.

TECHWAY's product range is the result of our defense engineering activities and our R&D efforts in close collaboration with key-player customers. The TECHWAY products are modular and versatile. They meet international standards and are designed to adapt to the widest range of industrial environments. The goal of TECHWAY team is to provide the industrial sectors with high-end solutions at a competitive cost.

Mr Patrick Méchin, founder and CEO of TECHWAY says "The Customer Satisfaction is the driving force of TECHWAY growth strategy since 20 years. We offer ever more innovative solutions thanks to our team's expertise based on ongoing training and customers' feedbacks. The merger of our companies is new story between two experts which are sharing the same business culture and know-how."

A Key Alliance for a Bright Future

"I congratulate Patrick Méchin for the exceptional work, he did over the last 20 years. I thank him for the trust he gave to us.

Thank you to all the TECHWAY team and our Advices for their hard work during this process.

We are pleased to announce the new alliance between our companies and we look forward to start working together.

Thanks to our join goal, NCS SYSTEMS and TECHWAY will still offer high value-added solutions together with an outstanding service.

This acquisition will strengthen our technological skills and broaden our range of solutions to fit our customers needs with high-quality innovations.

We look forward to start this new story together and still be innovative for our customers."
